An outstanding French early 19th century Louis XVI st. giltwood mirror, circa 1830. The original mirror plate is fitted within an intricately carved and most unique foliate and ball design that extends throughout the frame. A richly carved and finely detailed floral band also extends along the frame tied by a charming ribbon and with beautiful large scrolled acanthus leaves at the bottom corners. Above, the impressive pierced top crown is centered by a striking seashell flanked by elegant swaging floral garlands and wonderful floral wreaths at each corner. All original gilt throughout.
