An exceptional and most handsome French 18th century Louis XV period walnut 'Commode de Chateau' chest, circa 1730. The three drawer chest is raised by fine cabriole legs below the elegant scalloped shaped frieze. At the center are three drawers each retaining their original pierced iron foliate designed keyhole escutcheons and attractive pulls which open to reveal their original locks. Flanking the drawers are lovely fluted designs that lead upwards while each side displays rectangular recessed panels. The top showcases the original warm walnut grain.
