A unique and most elegant French 18th Louis XVI period Mahogany vanity table. The table is raised by slender circular tapered legs retaining their fine original ormolu casters. The straight apron displays three faux drawers each decorated with lovely ormolu faux keyhole escutcheons below one additional keyhole which unlocks the top. The top tilts upwards via its original hardware and locks in place with a support to the right. The top opens to reveal the most unique interior with its exceptional original removable mirror and original fitted gold tooled leather insert which lifts off to reveal the two concealed storage compartments.
