A stunning and high quality French 19th century Belle Epoque Period Neo-Classical st. Ormolu and patinated Bronze jardiniere urn, in the manner of Clodion. This most elegant planter/urn is raised on four scrolled legs with pawed feet and acanthus leaves leading up each leg. A wonderful reeded base plate accents the bottom of the urn and is finished with an inverted foliate finial. Above is a thick and richly chased protruding band of circular rosettes which connects the two handles displaying ram's heads at their base and scrolled foliate movements above. At the midsection of the planter is an exceptional and high quality wrap around reserve of charming cherubs playing. The urn is finished with a smooth patinated Bronze interior.
