A most impressive and large scaled French 19th century Charles X period patinated bronze and gilt metal chandelier. The twelve arm chandelier is centered by a lovely foliate gilt metal final below the patinated bronze body surrounded by decorative rosettes, palmettes, and large acanthus leaves.

Above and atop the patinated bronze body is a central electrified frosted glass eternal flame. Each of the twelve arms are in the shape of a cornucopia decorated by acanthus leaves all below the candle cup with spiral beaded designs. The arms flank decorative rosettes as well as large acanthus leaves which hold the six pierced chains which lead to the top crown. The top patinated metal crown is decorated by a central foliate mount, circular outer rosettes, and a top spray of gilt metal palmettes.
