A most elegant and finely detailed French 19th century Empire st. Ormolu chandelier. This exceptional four arm eight light circular chandelier is centered by an Ormolu acorn bottom finial which is surrounded by foliate and palmette designs throughout the base. Around the upper edge of the frame is a pierced mottled edge Ormolu gallery decorated with four busts of maidens and tassels hanging below. Attached to the bottom of the gallery are fine beaded Ormolu chains. Behind each maiden bust is an upward curving band with reeded designs that meet in the center and topped with an additional Ormolu acorn reserve. Atop each maiden bust is where the four bold beaded Ormolu chains which extend upwards to the top crown. The top crown is decorated by a smooth rounded Ormolu cup with an inverted Ormolu acorn finial.
