A stunning and extremely decorative French 19th century Louis XVI st. Belle Époque period onyx, ormolu and cloisonné centerpiece. The circular centerpiece is raised by an onyx base below the striking stepped mottled ormolu support with fine wrap around foliate and reeded bands below the socle shaped pedestal with striking finely detailed cloisonné designs. The elegantly curved body display an exceptional wrap around cloisonné band with lovely colorful floral designs and lattice like patterns set on a deep cobalt blue background. At the center are superb swaging ormolu garlands with richly chased blooming flowers draped from fine supports tied with a charming ribbon in a bow. Above is a mottled wrap around ormolu band at the rim decorated with additional wonderfully executed and most decorative cloisonné designs. Also finished on the inside.
