A beautiful and high quality French 19th century Louis XVI st. Belle Époque period ormolu and Sèvres porcelain centerpiece. The centerpiece is raised by a most decorative ormolu scrolled foliate base with charming richly chased grape leaves, grape clusters and finely detailed flowers in a stunning satin and burnished finish. Above a wrap around beaded band is a charming young girl seated with her legs crossed on a wonderfully executed ground design with lovely wheat sprigs. She is holding up the bowl with her hands above her head while draped in a fine flowing fabric. She is wearing a beaded necklace and has exceptional flowers in her hair tied with a vine. The striking Sèvres porcelain bowl above displays finely detailed hand painted flowers with beautiful vivid colors on the outside and a wonderfully executed central reserve. The most attractive hand painted reserve depicts beautiful maidens dressed in superb flowing dresses eating grapes with a goat at their side and young boys carrying baskets of flowers in the lovely French countryside. The reserve is framed within a gold tooled foliate and lattice border, with a beaded jeweled and gilt band with a richly chased wrap around floral ormolu band at the border. All original gilt throughout.
