A striking and high quality French 19th century Louis XVI st. Belle Époque period ormolu and white Carrara marble console. The unique freestanding console is raised by fine topie shaped feet below the elegantly curved base with a fitted wrap around ormolu band with charming foliate designs. The central support displays handsome paw feet with luxuriant scrolled acanthus leaves centering a beautiful scrolled seashell in a rich satin and burnished finish and a mask of a beautiful maiden. Above is a superb pierced scrolled foliate design set on a white Carrara marble background. The urn shaped top displays lovely scrolled movements, and fine foliate support leading up to the original white Carrara marble top with a mottled border and most decorative concave corners.
