An exquisitely decorated French 19th century Louis XVI st. Giltwood side table. This elegant and highly detailed circular table is supported by four tapered circular feet with a top band. The four legs are joined by a bottom stretcher with a woven caned center and outer concave frame. The frame is decorated by beautiful spiral ribbon edge carvings with blocks on each corner. Above are the spiral fluted legs which are decorated by top carved acanthus leaves below the apron with a central carved laurel band, and a mottled top and bottom border. Above each leg and at the apron is a block with a carved central rosette below the original fitted Vert Campan marble surrounded by a quarter round bullnose edge.
