An extremely elegant French 19th century Louis XVI st. mahogany and ormolu side table, attributed to Henry Dasson. The table is raised by circular tapered fluted legs with fine topie shaped sabots, richly chased top caps and lovely foliate fitted chandelles. Above each leg are detailed ormolu rosettes flanking recessed panels. Each panel is framed within a beaded mottled ormolu band and conceals a single drawer at the front. The circular top displays a striking and most decorative quarter veneered pattern showcasing the beautiful mahogany grain. All framed within a raised band with a mottled ormolu gallery.

Henry Dasson (1825-1896) was a renowned 19th century Parisian maker of gilt-bronze mounted furniture. Dasson specialized in the production of Louis XIV, XV and XVI styles, using the finest gilt-bronze mounts and was recognized as a brilliant bronzier. Dasson was made a Chevalier of the Légion d'honneur in 1883 and was awarded the Grand Prix Artistique at the 1889 Paris Exposition Universelle.
