A stunning and high quality French 19th century Louis XVI st. ormolu and Sèvres porcelain centerpiece. The centerpiece is raised by a square base with an elegant socle pedestal adorned with finely detailed floral designs and a wrap around tied berried laurel band. The striking blue Sèvres porcelain bowl is encased by impressive and intricately chased intertwined snakes which lead up each side. The rim displays an elegant and most decorative pierced ormolu gallery with a lovely beaded design. Also finished on the inside. All original gilt throughout.
