A exquisite French 19th century Louis XVI st. ormolu and Sèvres porcelain centerpiece. The centerpiece is raised by a striking pierced ormolu base with beautiful foliate movements. Finely detailed and richly chased rams heads adorn the sides. The forest green bowl displays wonderfully executed hand-painted fruit within a striking foliate and floral border. Leading up each side are fine foliate handles connected to the ormolu rim with a fine and most charming foliate border. The finished inside of the bowl is centered by additional hand-painted flowers. All original gilt throughout.
