An impressive and most decorative French 19th century Louis XVI st. Ormolu centerpiece. This attractive oval centerpiece is raised by four topie shaped and foliate decorated feet. The body displays pierced foliate patterns, egg and dart designs on the bottom edge, and a beaded band on the top edge. A stunning and most decorative smooth Cabochon reserve is displayed at the center while being flanked by large laurel vines. Two beautiful scrolling handles with foliate decorations are on each end. Inside this the centerpiece is the original removable Iron insert.
