An impressive and high quality French 19th century Louis XVI st. Tulipwood, Kingwood, Ormolu and Breccia Pernice marble vitrine buffet. This wonderful buffet is raised by tapered rectangular feet below the demi lune shaped base adorned with a finely chased Ormolu acanthus leaf border. The buffet contains three interior compartments concealed by cream colored pleated curtains behind the glass paned doors, with each glass door framed with an Ormolu tied ribbon border. The three interior sections include a stationary glass shelf and mirrored background. Above the doors is the apron with Ormolu twisted ribbon borders, veneered Kingwood panels inset with tied ribbons, and a bottom acanthus border repeated below the marble top. The original Breccia Pernice marble top follows the shape of the buffet and is finished with an ogee edge detail and carved contours.
