A beautiful and most elegant French 19th century Napoleon III period ormolu, glass and crystal cave à liqueur. The cave à liqueur is raised by fine foliate feet below a decorative bamboo designed wrap around band. At the center is a lovely foliate central design and keyhole escutcheon. The original beveled glass sides and top are also framed within a bamboo design with striking bird beaks amidst foliate designs at each corner. The top lifts up and locks in place by a lock on the left, while the front folds in. Inside are the original and complete set of sixteen cordial glasses and four decanters each displaying finely detailed luxuriant etched foliate designs and fitted within richly chased foliate ormolu supports. All original gilt.
