A magnificent French 19th century Regence st. giltwood and Escalette marble center table. The table is raised by elegant scrolled legs with striking richly carved acanthus leaves and beaded fillets. Each leg is connected by an impressive stretcher with fine scrolled designs and a carved central reserve.

The exceptional frieze is centered by a powerful mask of a maiden with a feather headdress flanked by dolphins, beautiful scrolled foliate movements and a lattice background. Each side is also decorated with scrolled designs, garlands and centered with a fine acanthus leaf. Above is the original thick gray and gold veined Escalette marble top with an outstanding double mottled border.
