An impressive and most elegant French 19th century Renaissance st. patinated Bronze and Ormolu Tazza/side table. This highly decorative table is raised on three pierced fluted patinated Bronze legs supported on raised pawed feet decorated with a mottled Ormolu band below the acorn and palmette designed top cap. The legs are connected by three pierced patinated Bronze supports with an Ormolu topie shaped central reserve showcasing fine scrolling designs. The top capital of the central bar of each leg is decorated with Ormolu scrolling palmettes and a patinated Bronze bust. The beautiful decorations between each leg are designed with pierced designs of scrolling figures, acorn finials, and egg and dart patterns. The intricately detailed circular Ormolu top is displayed on a mottled Ormolu socle. The top contains intricate decorations around the edge and a patinated Bronze band that separates the central bowl. The scenes on the top of this wonderful tazza depicts stories from classical mythology, which was a popular subject in the decorative arts during this period.
