An exceptional French mid 19th century Neo-Classical st. patinated bronze and ormolu floor lamp. The triangular base has three 'S' scrolled supports ending with hoof feet above circular mottled bases. In between are Grecian pierced palmette motifs all below the central fut. The fut has designs of protruding leaves while at the top are four scrolled arms with decorative hanging chains. Above is the classical urn supported by a saucer with scrolled handles ending with swan heads. The urn was once used to store oil. Inside the urn is the ormolu oil container which now supports the lamp cluster and gold silk pleated shade. All original and rich patina throughout.
