A charming and extremely well executed French mid 19th century Terra Cotta statue by Gustave Joseph Chéret. The Terra Cotta statue named 'Le coup de Vent' (Gust of wind) is raised on a circular mottled base below a mottled socle shaped pedestal. Above are four playful cherubs standing on a cloud while holding each other and surrounded by a large sweeping fabric. On the other side you have several cherubs being pushed by the fabric's force onto themselves. Each cherub has wonderful facial expressions. All original patination throughout.
