A stunning German 19th century Neo-Classical st. Mettlach porcelain charger. The most elegant and wonderfully executed charger displays intricately detailed personages all draped in fine flowing period attire. At the center is a beautiful seated maiden with a gentleman placing her shoes on her feet while surrounded by lovely younger maidens to the right, a gentleman and lady holding staffs at the center, and elegant ladies to the left. In the forefront is an alter like table with an exceptional and most decorative palmette designed band with water vessels, a bowl, and a small staff atop. All set on a wonderful Wedgwood blue background. Exceptional attention to detail throughout.
