A stately and most decorative Northern Italian early 19th century Empire st. patinated Mahogany, Giltwood and veneered marble console. This stunning console is raised by square block feet with Giltwood sabots and capitals, as well as richly chased foliate and palmette designs continuing up the legs. A wonderful and richly detailed Giltwood reserve centers the console, displaying swaging garlands surrounded by a mottled Giltwood border, and flanked by olive branches. The apron is decorated by an Ormolu garland reserve below a border of drapery swags and beading supporting the console's top. The veneered marble top consists of two bookmatched pieces of Breccia Pontificia marble, framed by elements in Verona Red, Alpine Green and Statuary marble.
