A handsome and most charming pair of French 19th century Charles X st. Ormolu candlestick lamps. Each wonderful electrified candlestick is raised by a circular base with fanciful decorations of palmettes amidst scrolled foliate designs and baskets of flowers. Above the reeded socle support is a stunning foliate decorated ball with large scale acanthus leaves. The cylindrical fut showcases an intricately detailed design of diamond patterns with rosettes in the center of each diamond. The candle cups above have similar palmette designs below foliate sprays.
