A unique and most decorative pair of French 19th century Renaissance st. patinated Bronze and Ormolu candelabras. Each striking four arm candelabra is raised on an X-shaped Ormolu base below three handsome and wonderfully detailed patinated Bronze turtles. The turtles support the urn shaped bodies of the candelabras displaying scrolled acanthus leaves at the base leading to a foliate band. To each side are large scrolled handles connected by a swaging foliate garland and joined at the neck. Four fierce perched dragons surround the mid section of each candelabra and present the four arms above, ending with foliate bobeches and candle cups.
