An attractive pair of French early 19th century Empire period Patinated and giltwood mirrors. The original mirrors plates are framed within an off white and gilt frame with bottom blocks flanking the bottom panel with a center gilt reserve and two outer gilt demi reserves with a rosette and palmettes amidst foliate scrolls. The two sides and top of the frame a decorated with a repeat of the same wonderfully decorative rosettes and foliate gilt scrolls. The top corners have central foliate sprays flanked by cornucopia like designs with serpents. The inner band of the frame has a Coeur de Rai design while the outer band is a burnished bull nose.
