A stunning pair of French early 19th century Régence st. giltwood and marble wall mounted consoles. Each console is raised by handsome paw feet connected by a most decorative stretcher and centered by a beautiful seashell reserve. Each S scrolled leg displays striking foliate designs and elegant maiden busts at each corner. The pierced scalloped shaped frieze displays intricately carved and finely detailed foliate and floral designs, with a decorative central reserve set on an elegant lattice design. All below the original Sarrancolin marble tops with a fine double mottled border. With all original gilt throughout.
