A lovely pair of French 19th century Louis XVI st. Sèvres porcelain and ormolu vases. Each vase is raised by an elegant triangular ormolu base with concave sides, handsome paw feet and open wings. The socle shaped supports display fine reeded designs and lovely foliate patterns. The most decorative baluster shaped bodies display striking intricately detailed hand painted flowers with lovely arrays of vivid colors and fine gold designs. At the ormolu rims are fine wrap around berried laurel bands and foliate movements. All original gilt and finished on the inside.
