An exquisite and very high quality pair of Italian 18th century Louis XV period Kingwood, Tulipwood, and Sienna marble commodes. Each beautiful bombée shaped two drawer chest is raised by elegant cabriole legs with fine fitted brass sabots. Above the arbalest shaped frieze are the two drawers each decorated with exceptional quarter veneered designs centering a superb diamond shaped reserve at the keyhole escutcheon all framed within a most decorative wrap around band. The sides also display a remarkable bombe shape decorated with similar slightly larger diamond shaped central reserves set on a striking background with multiple squares highlighting the beautiful wood grain pointing in different directions. Above are the exquisite original Sienna marble tops with a fine mottled border.
