A most elegant and finely detailed pair of Italian 18th century Louis XVI st. patinated wood and faux painted marble Milanese consoles. The rectangular pair of consoles are raised by four circular tapered fluted patinated wood legs with a topie shaped foliate feet and carved acanthus leaf top bands below square block capitals. The aprons display elegant recessed panels with carved spiraling designs that encase floral carvings which are flanked by rosette blocks on each corner. The top rim is decorated with a lily pad carved band below the faux painted marble tops.
