An impressive and finely detailed pair of Italian 19th century Neo-Classical st. Giltwood and Fleur de Pêcher marble consoles. These stunning wall mounted consoles are raised by beautiful cabriole Giltwood supports with ball and claw feet, and adorned with decorative acanthus leaves. Both supports are connected by a scrolled acanthus leaf decorated stretcher centered by an urn of prosperity flanked by laurel vines on either side. The front and both side straight aprons are tastefully decorated by pierced scrolled floral designs with a carved spiraling ribbon edge below and a carved dentil edge above. On both corners above the supports are wonderfully carved lions heads. Above are the exceptional Fleur de Pêcher marble tops with fine mottled borders.
