A stunning and most unique pair of Italian 19th century Neo-Classical st. patinated commodes. Each beautiful blue two drawer chest is raised by elegantly square tapered legs with fine recessed designs with charming hand painted rosettes and berried laurel bands extending upwards and along the straight frieze. The drawers are sans traverse (without crossbar) showcasing the cabinet maker's high skill set and display wonderfully executed central scenes of maidens in a chariot drawn by cherubs riding lions set on a black background with exceptional intricately detailed blooming flowers an ripe fruit amidst scrolled foliate designs. The sides also display charming scenes of personages dancing also set on a black background with the top also displaying a black patinated finish. All original patina throughout.
