A most elegant pair of Russian 19th century Neo-Classical st. Ormolu and Crystal chandeliers, modeled after Johan Zekh. Each stunning chandelier after a model by Johan Zekh, one of Saint-Petersburg's most celebrated masters, is centered by a bottom Ormolu acorn finial below an Ormolu tier which holds the twelve outer and twelve inner scrolled arms. Circular and oblong shaped cut Crystals adorn the bottom tier and lead up each arm to swaging Crystal garlands which connect the arms together. The twelve inner arms display stunning circular Crystal finials and are flanked by large scale Crystal daggers finished with Crystal sprays. Stunning double split scrolled arms surround the perimeter of the chandelier and are accented with swaging Crystal garlands, star shaped rosettes and lead to foliate bobeches below the Ormolu candle cups and glass saucers. The exceptional central finial is encased in remarkable Crystal reserves and leads to the top crown in the shape of a large Ormolu and Crystal spray.
