A stunning and monumentally scaled true pair of French 19th century Louis XV st. Belle Époque period ormolu and patinated bronze candelabra lamps. Each extremely high quality seven arm candelabra is raised by a striking and exceptionally well executed scrolled foliate design with richly chased blooming flowers and charming oak leaves with a most elegant lattice design at the back all in a spectacular satin and burnished finish. At the center are remarkable patinated bronze statuettes raised on a superb ground designed base with beautiful foliate and water flora designs. The statuette to the left depicts a finely detailed cherub draped in a flowing garment holding a spear hunting a wild boar at his side while the statuette to the right depicts an additional cherub blowing a horn and holding his handsome hunting dog. Stunning scrolled foliate movements lead upwards to the outstanding arms displaying beautiful and most decorative scrolled movements adorned with richly chased acanthus leaves and finely detailed leaves leading to floral bobeches and candle cups also displaying an exceptional satin and burnished finish.
