A most charming true pair of Italian 19th century white Carrara marble statues. Each statue is raised by a circular base with a fine mottled border and a wonderfully executed ground like design. Above are the richly carved statues of a lovely young boy and girl standing next to a tree trunk. Each are draped in a wonderfully executed flowing ribbon garment and are wearing a headband. The young boy to the left is holding a finely detailed bird in his hands while the young girl to the right looks over at him with her hand at her mouth while holding an intricately detailed bird's nest with eggs in it at her side. Wonderful subject matter and intricate attention to detail.
