A sensational Italian 18th century Louis XV period patinated wood and faux painted marble wall mounted console. The console is raised by a charming central foliate and floral reserve from where the elegantly scrolled legs branch out. Each leg displays striking and most decorative carved designs with richly carved flowers and large striking foliate reserves at each corner.

The apron is centered by a beautiful finely carved floral garland with exceptional hand painted colors amidst pierced scrolled foliate movements.

Above is the original masterfully executed faux painted marble top with a scalloped shaped and fine mottled border. Beautiful pastel colors throughout with all original paint and patina.
