A most decorative Italian 19th century Renaissance st. Ebonized Fruitwood, Specimen marble and Micro-Mosaic side table. The table is raised on a tripod base with three 'C' scrolled legs ending with circular rosettes. The base with three circular turned columns is gilded in the etched designs throughout the base and top rim. The central fluted column as well as the three turned columns support the top. The top has a fitted micro-mosaic of several important Roman structures amidst a specimen of marbles and a central inlaid reserve. The top ebonized mottled rim is decorated by elegant swaging gilt designs.
