A spectacular and very high quality Italian early 18th century giltwood mirror, circa 1730. The mirror retains its original mirror plates framed within a fine wrap around mottled border with a fine beaded band. At the base are lovely elegantly curved pierced acanthus leaf feet flanking beautiful swaging laurel garlands also repeated at the top mirror plate centering a sunflower like reserve and a charming tied bow. The stunning pierced top crown is centered by an impressive urn and striking seashell amidst most decorative scrolled foliate elements, swaging berried laurel garlands, lovely laurel branches and large acanthus leaves flanked by striking urn shaped finials at each side. All original gilt throughout.
