An attractive and very unique Italian early 19th century Charles X period Gris St. Anne, white Carrara, Rouge Royale, Sienna, and black Belgian marble side table. This wonderful side/games table is raised by a concave sided triangular marble base, with one marble being white Carrara and the other being Gris St. Anne, atop the original metal casters below. Above the triangular base are three Gris St. Anne marble scrolled supports. The white Carrara marble body displays tastefully carved acanthus leaves surrounding the bottom as it tapers upwards to the circular Gris St. Anne marble top. The mottled edge marble top is beautifully decorated with a centrally placed chess board made of checkered Sienna and black Belgian marble. The chess board is flanked by an octagonal shaped Rouge Royale marble band.
