A beautiful and extremely decorative Italian early 19th century Louis XVI st. Ebony and ivory side table. The one drawer rectangular table is raised by elegant tapered legs with delicate inlaid fluted like ivory inlays with topie shaped feet and mottled top caps with each leg connected by striking stretchers with a remarkable topie central finial. Above each leg are fine inlaid ivory block rosettes flanking the straight frieze with a wrap around mottled band, striking foliate inlaid designs, and a drawer at the front. The top displays a magnificent array of intricately inlaid ivory foliate designs with interlocking geometric patterns and a exquisite checkerboard design at the center.
