A most elegant French 18th century Regence period giltwood and Rouge Griotte marble console. The wall mounted console is raised by beautiful scrolled foliate feet below the striking tapered cabriole legs. Each leg is adorned with beautiful richly carved acanthus leaves with scrolled movements and are attached by a most decorative foliate central stretcher.

Above each leg are impressive carved seashell reserves leading to the arbalest shaped apron. The apron displays a superb pierced lattice design centered by large scrolled acanthus leaves and richly carved charming flowers. The sides are decorated in the same manner. Above is the original scalloped shaped Rouge Griotte marble top with a fine mottled border.
