A very elegant French 19th century Louis XV st. tulipwood, mahogany and ormolu games table. The table is raised by fine cabriole legs with wrap around fitted foliate sabots and striking richly chased maidens at each corner. The scalloped shaped apron displays striking wonderfully executed inlaid parquetry designs which extend along the sides and at the back. Above is the most unique top with additional beautiful inlaid designs in an impressive lattice design. The border displays a most decorative double berried laurel wrap around gallery and opens to reveal the green fabric game surface with an elegant gold tooled border. The two back legs pull backwards to support the top when opened and reveal additional beautiful parquetry designs on the finished inside. The back legs also pull backwards to reveal a concealed drawer.
