A high quality and spectacular French 19th century Louis XVI style mahogany and ormolu Bureau à Cylindre. The desk is raised by very elegant tapering legs adorned by detailed ormolu mounts throughout with original wrapped around ormolu sabots. At the central drawer is an impressive pierced ormolu reserve, pulls and borders. The upper bombée part of the desk opens to reveal 9 interior compartments and small drawers. Then the bottom part flips over the drawer and becomes a stunning writing surface with a handsome fitted tooled red leather. At the top is central drawer with a richly chased scrolling ormolu reserve and is flanked by two scalloped pierced ormolu galleries while above is a three quarter ormolu gallery. Wonderful quality with all original gilt and hardware.
