An exceptional pair of French 19th century Louis XVI st. Sèvres porcelain and ormolu seven arm candelabra lamps. Each lamp is raised by a richly chased ormolu square base with cut corners and fine block rosette feet centered by a beautiful foliate reserve. At the mottled socle pedestal is a detailed wrap around berried laurel band. The cobalt blue Sèvres Porcelain body displays striking and most charming scenes with personages in beautiful forests framed within a gilt border. Leading up each side is a gilt beaded design and lovely hand painted gold flowers at the neck. Above are six elegant scrolled arms with richly chased foliate movements adorned with large acanthus leaves, ending with fine foliate candle cups, all centered by a taller central arm.
