A stunning and monumentally scaled Italian 18th century Louis XVI period patinated wood and giltwood trumeau mirror. The trumeau is raised by a fine mottled giltwood base with a lovely Coeur de Rai band and a finely carved rosette at each side. The central mirror displays its three original mirror plates set within a most decorative twisted ribbon band and mottled foliate band. Leading up each side are stunning wonderfully executed foliate carvings with richly carved maidens at the center and intricately detailed leaves and flowers set on a teal patinated background and framed within a wrap around beaded band. The impressive top crown is centered by a beautiful urn with flowers set on a patinated teal background and flanked with elegant foliate Rinceaux patterns with impressive scrolled capitals at each side with lovely swaging floral garlands. At the top is a fine mottled band with additional foliate carvings and a twisted ribbon design. All original gilt, mirror plates and patina throughout.
