A very decorative Italian late 19th century Louis XVI st. Chinoiserie painted console with all original paint. The freestanding console is raised by four circular gilt fluted legs ending with carved patinated green acanthus leaf designed sabots and a top Asian painted figure with arms crossed, wearing a hat. Above is the carved and painted apron with various charming scenes of playful children within a landscape continued on all three sides. Flanking the scenes are wonderful carved turquoise and yellow patinated rosettes within a gilt border. The mottled edge top is finished with a faux Vert Antique painted marble.
